Construction 40 Percent Complete On Electric Plant

Construction of the Sandow Power Plant, which will generate electric power for the operation of Alcoa's Rockdale Works, is now 40 per cent complete. The new power facility is being built by Texas Power & Light Company as agent for Alcoa, and Ebasco Services, Incorporated, is general contractor.

When complete, the power generating plant will be operated for Alcoa by Industrial Generating Company, a subsidiary of Texas Utilities.

Aluminum producing facilities at the Rockdale Works were completed early this summer. Full production of aluminum, however, will not begin until the new power plant is in operation. Temporary electric power is now being supplied to the Rockdale Works by Texas Power & Light Company.

A construction progress report released today indicated that the first unit of the power plant would be ready for a trial run early in November of this year. J. D. Harper, works manager of Alcoa's Rockdale Works, emphasized that factors such as bad weather or late delivery of equipment might extend this schedule.

1953-54 Budget, Holidays Sick Leave Set By Board

In regular session Wednesday night, September 9, the school board of the Cameron Independent School District adopted the school budget for the 1953-54 school year.

Total amount of the budget is $264,685. Of this amount, local tax funds will provide $56,594 and the remainder of the budget will come from State and Federal funds.

In a breakdown of the school budget it was stated by school officials that all of the money is earmarked by the Texas Education Agency except $34,000. This means that the local school board has $34,000 with which to maintain and operate the school plant, pay insurance on property, and carry on all of the essentials of school operation except teachers' salaries.

Anyone interested in a detailed examination of the school budget is cordially invited to appear at the office of the Superintendent of Schools in Yoe High School beginning September 15 from 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon each day.

The school board also has adopted sick leave policy and substitute pay for teachers. Regular members of the school faculty will have a three day sick leave at full pay. Substitute teachers throughout the school system will receive $7.50 per day. This action came as a direct result of requested suggestions from the faculty.

School holidays for the 1953-54 Cameron school year will be as follows: Thanksgiving holidays—November 26 and 27; Christmas holidays—December 19 to January 3 (two weeks); Easter holidays—Friday, April 16 through Monday, April 19; Yoe Day—Thursday, May 13.

SECOND CROP OF ARMY WORMS

J. D. Moore, County Agent

The same family of army worms we had last month feeding on the lawn grass is here again with a new generation of small worms. Cool rainy weather is favorable for their development because they will feed on the grasses during the day. Ordinarily at this time of year, the days are hot and the worms feed only at night. The worms feed mostly on the chlorophyll or green body part of the blade of grass and leave the framework or skeleton form of the blade. This leaves the lawn grass with the appearance of white stripes running along the blades.

The brown moth or butterfly lay the eggs at night on the grass and other plants and the eggs hatch in about 5 days. The young worms feed at first near the ground, become full grown in about 20 days, and then enter the soil for a few inches and change into the pupae (caterpillar) stage. The inactive pupae stage lasts about 10 days. After the moths emerge from pupae cases they often fly many miles before the females lay eggs again. This worm may have as many as 6 generations a year in Gulf States which include Milam County.

The worms are easy to control using the following methods:
4 tablespoons 60% toxaphene to 1 gal. water.
4 tablespoons 25% DDT emulsion to 1 gal. water.
4 tablespoons 75% Chlorodane to 1 gal. water.
5 or 10% chlorodane, DDT, or dust are effective.

Five to 10 gallons of any of the above materials should give good control of these worms in the average size yard. The county agent prefers to use 4 tablespoons of 60% liquid toxaphene to 1 gallon of water for control.

EARLY DESTRUCTION OF COTTON STALKS

According to the Agriculture Extension Department of Texas A&M College, early destruction of cotton stalks is essential for production of a good crop next year.

Since cotton has matured in the southern areas of the state and is rapidly approaching maturity in other boll weevil areas, farmers in most instances will be in a position to harvest the crop and to destroy their cotton stalks early. Destruction of cotton stalks immediately after harvest, and as far as possible in advance of the first frost, will prevent late-season development of boll weevils and pink boll worms and will reduce the numbers that survive the winter.

Early stalk destruction which destroys the food supply and stops continuous breeding of pink bollworms and boll weevils is the best and most economical means of reducing damage from these insects during next crop season. Late summer or early fall rains will cause new growth and fruiting of cotton plants and will allow large numbers of these insects to build up and enter hibernation.

The destruction of stalks even a few days before frost is worthwhile but if this can be accomplished 30 days or more before frost, the results from the standpoint of insect control can be expected to be much better. Stalk shredders will kill large numbers of pink bollworms and boll weevils mechanically and will expose many of those remaining to weather and other hazards through the even spreading of debris over the ground. Although early stalk destruction is profitable on individual fields or farms, it is of much greater value when practiced on a community-wide, county-wide or area-wide basis. This is the final report for the cotton season from the A&M Extension Department.

Alcoa Will Give Scholarships To Employees' Children

J. D. Harper manager of the Rockdale Works of Aluminum Company of America, announced Tuesday the establishment of a college scholarship program for children of Alcoa employees.

Mr. Harper said a $2,000 schol- arship will be made available next spring for the best qualified son or daughter of a Rockdale Works employee. This award, he stated, is one of 39 scholarships which Alcoa will grant annually throughout the company.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., I. W. Wil- son, president of Aluminum Com- pany of America, said: "Through this program the company is expressing appreciation to its em- ployees for their loyalty by of- fering opportunity and assistance for the higher education of their sons and daughters."

These scholarships are distrib- uted at each Works location or operating area according to the number of employees.

Rockdale Works, which will have approximately 1200 em- ployees, is allotted one schol- arship each year, with only one scholarship to be allowed any family within a four year period.

Mr. Harper said the following qualifications must be met to entitle an applicant to partici- pate in the program:

1. An applicant must be the child of an employee who has had continuous service with the com- pany for the previous five years. Excepted from this rule are children of employees at Works which have been in operation less than five years, and chil- dren of retired or deceased em- ployees—provided the employee had completed five years of con- tinuous service immediately prior to retirement or death.

2. Further selection of an ap- plicant will be based on his ach- ievement and promise, financial need, character and leadership ability.

3. All applicants, finally, must take the College Board Examina- tion, which will determine the winner or winners at each loca- tion.

4. The actual granting of the award is contingent upon the winner's successful completion of the entrance requirements and acceptance by an accredited col- lege or university. Alcoa will not specify any institution of higher learning at which the winner should enroll.

Mr. Harper said that should a winner be called to military ser- vice after receiving the award, he will remain eligible for the un- used portion upon his return.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER IN FAVOR OF RAISING NATIONAL DEBT LIMIT IF IT'LL RAISE THE PRIVATE LIMIT TOO

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Marlow, is confused, his letter this week reveals.

I have been reading in the papers lately where President Eisenhower has been thinking about maybe havin to call Congress back into a special session to raise the debt limit.

This ain't the first time a man has taken over an outfit and discovered it was in worse shape than he'd realized, and all my sympathies are with the President as he struggles to make ends meet, balance the budget, keep up our defenses, lower his golf score, pave all the roads everybody wants, build all the dams the cities want, increase Social Security, contend with Congress and cut taxes at the same time.

Understand, I don't want him to call a special of Congress on my account, but if he does call em back and they raise the government's debt limit, how about puttin a rider on the bill to increase mine?

One of the greatest bars to expanding business in this country is the debt limit some merchants put on their customers, and what I would like to know is why they take on a more international viewpoint and open the floodgates? There are literally thousands of people in this country ready and willing to buy, and all that's stoppin em is these privately imposed debt limits.

On my place out here, I can sit down, or could if I wasn't already sittin down, and enumerate dozens of improvements that could be made in the next thirty days, except for these private debt limits that're holdin the country back. And my problem is more complex than Eisenhower's. It ain't just one debt limit that's in my way, it's dozens of em. Even if the lumber yard raised mine and allowed me enough credit for a new roof, I'd still have to get the carpenters to raise theirs before construction could start.

You multiply my situation by

J. D. Eppright Is New Commercial Manager for TP&L

Appointment of J. D. Eppright as commercial manager of Texas Power & Light Company's Southern Division was announced Friday by TP&L division manager Bassett Watson. Mr. Eppright succeeds Alva E. Wright who has been named local manager of the company's McGregor office.

"During Mr. Eppright's nearly seven years with Texas Power & Light Company he has worked closely with our commercial customers," Mr. Watson said. He was commercial service adviser of the McKinney district for nearly two years. The latter part of 1948, he was transferred to the Dallas headquarters office where he has held the positions of assistant manager of residential and commercial sales and as commercial service supervisor.

J. D. EPPRIGHT

"As commercial manager of the company's Southern Division," Mr. Watson said, "Mr. Eppright will coordinate such sales in the Cameron, Corsicana, Hillsboro, Taylor, Temple and Waco districts." He will make his headquarters in Waco.

Mr. Eppright is a native of Denton and a graduate of that city's public schools and of Sch-the whole country and you begin to get an idea of how much more business everybody could do if this limit was changed.

Personally, my sympathies are all with the President, and while I don't know anything about the national debt limit, if raisin it will start a trend, I'm in favor of it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SHADE TREE TROUBLE

J. D. Moore, County Agent

We are receiving a number of specimen shade tree leaves showing the characteristic tip and marginal "burn" or "scorch" caused by a moisture deficiency. This trouble has been prevalent in the drought areas of the state for the past two years. Many of these samples are brought in by people who state that their trees have been watered regularly. This points up the fact that a good many people do not understand the principles involved in watering a shade tree properly.

The lateral spread of the root system of most shade trees is extensive. It commonly extends two, two and one-half and even three times past the distance of the limbspread of the trees. The greater part of the root system will be found in the top three to four feet of soil and the greatest concentration of feeder roots will usually be found in the vicinity of the drip of the branches. This means that if a thorough job of watering a shade tree is to be done, an area of soil extending from the base of the tree to a few feet past the limbspread should be soaked to a depth of two to three feet. To get this depth of penetration allow the water to run slowly from the open end of a garden hose. This will usually do a better job than the use of a sprinkler. If a basin system of watering is used, the ridge forming the basin should be located almost at the tip of the tree limbs.

When the soil is thoroughly soaked by the above procedure, it is not necessary to water more often than every ten days to two weeks even in stress periods of drought.

White Wing Dove To Be Scarce

Austin.—The hunters may outnumber the birds when the Texas white-winged dove season is held September 11, 13 and 15 in the Rio Grande Valley.

Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the state game commission, estimated that possibly 100,000 doves will be available in the lower Rio Grande Valley for the shoot. That would be only a fraction of the dove population of a few years ago.

Dodgen said most of the white-wings have begun concentrating in Starr County because of feed conditions.

Shooting hours will be 4 p. m. to sunset for the three-day hunting period, with a bag limit of 10 whitewings and mourning doves in the aggregate.

Miss Sara Esslinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Esslinger will enter TSCW, at Denton next week for the fall term.

8-Month Farm Price Decline Shown

Farmers got 6 per cent less for what they sold in the first eight months of this year than in the corresponding period of 1952, the Agriculture Department reported Sunday.

Cash receipts from marketings amounted to about $17,700,000 in the January-August reported.

Average prices were down about 10 per cent but the volume of marketings was a little larger than a year ago.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products brought farmers $11,000,000,000 in the first eight months this year, down 7 per cent. The drop in average prices of cattle held receipts from meat animals to 13 per cent below last year.

Dairy receipts dropped 5 per cent, with marketings of fluid milk up slightly and average prices down 8 per cent.

Contrary to the downward trend, receipts from poultry and eggs were up 11 per cent.

Crop receipts from January through August were $6,700,000,000, 4 per cent below last year as a result of lower prices.

Receipts from wheat, cotton, truck crops and potatoes were down.

Cash receipts in July approximated $2,500,000,000, 15 per cent above June but 8 per cent below July, 1952.

July 1 receipts from livestock and products totaled $1,400,000,000, a little higher than June, but 6 per cent under July 1952.

Crop receipts were $1,100,000,000, up 52 per cent from June because of seasonally higher marketings of wheat, cotton, fruit and tobacco. But they were down 11 per cent from July 1952, due mostly to lower prices for wheat and corn.

Missing Chapters in the Schoolbooks

A high-school teacher writes us: "Please send me 50 copies of your booklet, Adventures Inside the Atom, for use with my students." Another wants material on new inventions. Or booklets on jet planes.

New things happen in science faster than textbooks can be revised.

New words puzzle our ears and eyes before these words are in dictionaries . . . atomic-pile reactors, silicones, jet engines with "afterburners," UHF television. Some problem for teachers, that.

Last year over 100,000 letters from schools hit our desks at General Electric asking for things in print on "what's new."

Just to give you an idea of how this adds up, one booklet, Adventures Inside the Atom, has been requested to the tune of five million copies since 1948.

Adventures in Jet Power, also handled in comic-book treatment, has since 1946 gone into eight printings.

This may surprise you: a new booklet, Why Study Math?, will run over a million copies this year. (It answers that question Junior is always raising.)

Nobody is happier than we are to know teen-agers have a lively appetite for what's buzzing in the world around them.

After all, whether they know it or not, our young people in school today will be the scientists and engineers of tomorrow. They can't know too much.

MRS. LAWRENCE B. GREENWOOD
Miss Rita Hanel Exchanges Vows
With Mr. Lawrence B. Greenwood

Miss Rita Hanel and Lawrence B. Greenwood were united in marriage at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, August 23. Rev. Clyde Holtmann performed the double ring ceremony in St. Monica's Catholic Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanel of the Hoyte community. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Greenwood of Collegeport.

Ferns and potted white chrysanthemums stood before the altar which held lighted candles.

Miss Catherine Michalka of Liberty, cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding march. The St. Monica's choir sang "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her bridal gown she chose white nylon lace over taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice. The softly gathered skirt extended into a chapel length train. Long lace sleeves fastened at the wrist with tiny, covered buttons. A softly rolled collar graced each side of the deep, pointed neckline. Her illusion veil was attached to a lace and taffeta cap.

She wore a gold cross and chain which belonged to her grandmother, and carried white carnations with streamers upon a white prayer book. The prayer book was carried by her grandmother at her own wedding.

Anna Marie Hanel was maid of honor and Mrs. Joe Hoblitzel was bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They wore light blue taffeta dresses fashioned like the bridal gown and carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with blue net and white satin ribbon.

Clarence Hanel served as best man and Herman Hanel, as groomsmen. Both are brothers of the bride. The groom and his attendants wore light suits.

Mrs. Hanel, mother of the bride, chose a gray striped nylon dress as her wedding attire. With it she wore a white mum corsage.

Mrs. Greenwood, mother of the groom, wore a gray striped suit with a corsage of white mums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Simon-George Hall. The table, covered with a white linen cut-work cloth, held a center arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Catherine Michalka served the four-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with white parents in the Hoyte community for members of the immediate family.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, Mrs. Greenwood was wearing a green, two-piece cotton suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Greenwood graduated from St. Anthony school and Yoe High School where she was active in band. She has been employed by the First National Bank in Cameron for about four years.

Pvt. Greenwood attended the Collegeport School and is now in the United States Army. He was most recently stationed at Fort Bliss and reports this week to Camp Kilmer, New Jersey for assignment in Germany.

Out-of-town guests coming for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Greenwood of Collegeport; Joan Hanel, Bill Gallup, Mrs. Adolph Hanel and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Marek, all of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newman and daughters of Eastgate; Arthur Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engbrock of Temple; and Sister Mary Veronica, Sister Mary Angelique and Sister Mary Damian, all of the St. Joseph Hospital in Houston.
